HOLDS UP BOTH HANDS FOR RUTHERFORD GOVERNMENT

P. J. Nolan, Eminent Calgary Lawyer and a Conservative, Appears on Same Platform With Hon. C. W. Cross.

HE ENDORSES ADMINISTRATION AS A BUSINESS PROPOSITION

Attorney-General Deals With Government's Administration and Legislation Enacted for the Benefit of the People.

Both Speakers Enthusiastically Received.—Mr. Nolan Deposes That No Valid Reason Can Be Adduced for the Removal of Mr. Cross Out of Office so Capable a Government as the Rutherford Administration and Placing the Affairs of the Province in the Hands of Inexperienced Legislators.—Appeals for Support of Government Not as a Liberal or a Conservative, but as an Albertan.

Inishfah, Mar. 10.—"It seems to me that we have to spend our lives in this western country; it is up to us to speak out and let the people know what we want to do; if we do not support the administration which has proved itself to be the best government in the interests of the province to the last practicable advantage," said P. J. Nolan, the prominent lawyer and Conservative speaker, and one of the most able speakers in the province, in a speech at Inishfah in support of the Rutherford government.

Mr. Nolan stated his position clearly and said: "I appear before you," he said, "neither as a Liberal nor as a Conservative, but solely and simply as an Albertan, a man who has resided here for the past twenty years and whose interests are those of the people, the purpose of placing myself on record with a view of asking you whether, with my knowledge of the facts, what is the matter from a purely unbiased point of view whether they are satisfied with the work done by the affairs of the province under the Rutherford government, and if so to stand them up, that government for another term."

Skins Absolutely Clean.—In these days when the atmosphere is filled with political mud-slinging, there is not one instance where any man in the province can name a single instance of corruption in the Rutherford government," he continued, when the applause broke out for his speech.

"I think, and hundreds of others throughout the province think, that while we are getting our affairs managed well, there is no reason why the present administration should not be re-elected, and I hope the electors will drop party politics, and unite in supporting the administration, which has so abundantly demonstrated its ability as a government."

Mr. Nolan's speech was the feature of the evening and delivered in his usual forcible manner made a great impression.

Outbursts of Applause Were Frequent.

As a member of the legal profession the policy of law reform inaugurated by the Rutherford government appealed to him and he pointed out its evident advantages in cheapening the cost of living and the like. He said the people were now able to collect just debts when under the old law it made no difference whether one sued or not because of the excessive costs.

The telephone system of the government was also referred to, pointing out the enormous classes it is one of the best systems on the continent.

The present day educational facilities, he said, were also unequalled and although the amount spent on education could hardly be bettered in any way.

Markets for Farmers.

In referring to the rural policies of the government, Mr. Nolan pointed out that the policy that brought the railroads into the province would mean an increase in general trade and would settle the prairies and lakes there and the richest copper mines the world over.

Copper mining having been discovered one hundred years ago, the rest to Fort McMurray, he said, the Rutherford government had been in the main responsible for the fact that the road would do wonders for the north.

Mr. Nolan pointed out that the government with which fault could be found.

"There is absolutely nothing," he said, "as good as a man who has been in every town and village throughout the province, and who has known something of the prevailing conditions. I ask you in all honesty and sincerely, can you conceive of a Rutherford administration, which from a purely business point of view, so easily controlled the affairs of the province?"

Attorney-General Speaks.

Hon. C. W. Cross, attorney-general, spoke and was well received. All through the speech the applause was frequent and the cheering was continuous and cheering. The Attorney-General dealt largely with the issues of the campaign. Public ownership of the telephone held a large

MDOUGALL WILL DO AS HE DID WHEN HE WAS MAYOR

Liberal Candidate Tells Audience at Enthusiastic Meeting on Ross' Flats That He Will Adopt Similar Publicity Methods to Those Which Marked His Municipal Administration. Appeals for a Large Majority. J. Travis-Barker Moved Resolution of Confidence.

The election of Edmonton should be held after or before every session of the Legislature. If an elected member of Parliament wants to let the people know what has been done or what is to be done and what is to be done, he should go to the electors, I go to represent the people, not myself, and I intend to let the people know as much about the work of the day as the campaign speakers themselves.

This statement of John A. McDougall, who had traded in the north country for the past ten years, was made yesterday at Ross' Flats. He said: "There is no human reason why the present administration should not be re-elected, and the electors should drop party politics, and get united in supporting the administration, which has so abundantly demonstrated its ability as a government."

Hicks Absolutely Clean.—In the course of an able address, Mr. Hicks, who has been here since last Friday, said: "It is justice for the statement that he is one of the best-known men in the west to be made, and I am sure that there is no human reason why the present administration should not be re-elected, and the electors should drop party politics, and get united in supporting the administration, which has so abundantly demonstrated its ability as a government."

Mr. Hicks' speech was the feature of the evening and delivered in his usual forcible manner made a great impression.

THE CAMPAIGN

Liberals have now a complete record of their candidates in the constituencies where election will be held on the 23rd.

The Trades and Labor Council of Calgary have endorsed the candidate of Geo. Howell, who is the Socialist candidate for every constituency.

The Liberal electors in Alberta have done the right thing by the government in bringing in the legislation which failed to materialize on the previous night.

Duncan Marshall spoke at Braint, High River, riding, last night. Topeka, High River, and Claresholm on Friday night.

A Conservative convention held in Lethbridge on Saturday night nominated the district to W. S. Monroe, but he has not intimated that he will stand for election.

At the Conservative meeting in Calgary Tuesday night, Dr. Bow said: "We have got a good candidate in Mr. R. R. Bennett, selector for the C.P.R., also spoke during the course of the meeting.

One of the ablest speeches of the campaign on behalf of the Rutherford government was given in Innisfail on Friday night by P. J. Nolan of Calgary. Mr. Nolan is giving his hearty support to the Liberal candidates.

H. W. McRitchie was yesterday nominated as Liberal candidate for the Peninsular constituency at a convention at Manilla.

The other contestants are Mr. O'Connor, who has retired and will give Mr. McRitchie his hearty support.

The Conservative convention in Okotoks was held yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the district to Mr. McHardy.

last three and a half years. Innisfall looks promising for John Marshall, the former member, and in Old Ottawa he will be able to carry Marshall's election by a substantial majority. Mr. Marshall is this week campaigning for his re-election administration in the south of the Province.

In Bury, in the three-cornered fight between Stanfield, Scarlet and McLean, it is hard to size up the situation, but the odds are with Stanfield.

In Cochrane, Hon. G. W. Fisher has a hard opponent in Dr. J. A. Ross, but he defeated him in last election and should do so again with the increased support of the Liberal party. Fisher's stand likely be a hard fight but E. H. Riley should repeat his victory.

Ootoks will give strong support to Malcolm McHardie, Liberal, who is the leader of the constituency, and McLean, Conservative, has already announced his support of the Liberal, whom he is opposed by Fred Garrow, a rancher.

The late member, and strong and influential support, and the defeat of his opponent.

In Stein Plain from four candidates, John A. McPherson, Liberal; Dan Kinney, Conservative, and J. Cropley, running on behalf of the lumber interests, the result is not yet known. With an even fight, Liberals and Conservatives. Mr. McPherson would win.

In Rocky Mountain there is no regular Liberal, though the party will nominate a candidate, and the Labor candidate, who is also a Rotarian, may win.

In Calgary the highest hopes are expected to centre in the following: Ponoka, where Dr. Campbell, former speaker, J. A. Ross, Conservative, Captain, where George P. Smith, Liberal, opposes Dr. McEachern, Conservative, and Dr. L. M. Roberts, Liberal, opposes Dr. Stanley, Conservative, Nanton, where M. M. Cross, Liberal, and Dr. Robert, Conservative, and MacLeod, where Colin Gleave, Liberal, In all of these the Liberals have an even chance and in many much better.

It will be seen that at the worst the Conservatives cannot come to the next legislature with more than one or ten members.

part of his attention and the telephone question and the C.P.R. lands tax question were of secondary interest. The result of the Bell Company to extend the system and the same, taking over of all the lines and their equipment, was of great importance, with such results, promises, and guarantees to the electors, and the prediction of telephone rates in the future was very interesting.

The question of C.P.R. land taxation was one which affected this district to no little extent. He realized that the company would have to take the land if they could have carried out their most extensive improvements, that the company had already received. The fact that the Canadian Pacific had been granted the right to taxes on branch lines brought forth expressions of alarm, which were removed when Hon. M. Cross assured the electors that the provincial government could take still further measures against the company to compel them to pay their just taxes.

That Statement of Bennett's.

The statement of the Canadian government that the Canadian Pacific voluntarily offered to pay $$100,000$ in excess of what it had been assessed, did not meet to the satisfaction of the electors, but, which was so ably defended by his superior, the chief editor of the Calgary Herald, who telegraphed to Hon. M. Cross, that the company paid under protest, and that the offer was withdrawn. This appealed strongly to the people.

The manner in which the latest Courts Act, the act respecting Sheriffs and Deputies and other law reform, was introduced, was of considerable interest and one that will be remembered to this day. The bill was introduced by his superior, the chief editor of the Calgary Herald, who telegraphed to Hon. M. Cross, that the company paid under protest, and that the offer was withdrawn. This appealed strongly to the people.

The man in question, which the speaker was not an iste in provincial politics, was also discussed and received with sympathy, especially when it was pointed out that it cost the dominion government $$12,000$ a year to pay the bill, while it cost them that they received in revenue from the same.

The Workmen's Compensation Act came in for considerable favorable comment and the comparatively small cost of the bill was emphasized by the employers who were uniting most easily by the consumer, especially in view of the fact that the best possible way of protecting the working man and his dependents.

The new Courts Act, the new Sheriff's and Deputies and other law reform, was also discussed and received with sympathy, especially when it was pointed out that it cost the dominion government $$12,000$ a year to pay the bill, while it cost them that they received in revenue from the same.

The meeting was held in the Opera House and was one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in the city. Innisfall, Mr. Cross made a strong speech, which was well received and received with enthusiasm. They were talk of a honest practical business man and one which must appeal to all classes.

LOCALS.

D. H. Gormley, Strathcona's East end grocer, purchased a resi-tient in the Harris block, adjoining his store in the early part of next month.

Peter McLean, formerly of Strathcona, who was now employed in bridges and later in London, has been in the city the past few days.

He said that the weather has been mild and the winter has been unusually mild, and that the snow has not yet fallen.

She Forgets Some Things.

Blackstock wanted to know why she did not go to the paper ballroom last night, but she was frightened and was in a hurry to get home. She said she was afraid to go to the ball and a male friend for company.

"You must have," said the Lawyer.

She ran to a window and tried to open it and the man followed. She did not know if she got out of the room or not, but she did not make a sound and he did not hear her.

"And then what?" asked the lawyer.

"I don't know," she said.

"Why your memory was always good, but you seem to have forgotten some things," said she did not remember seeing the man after being seized. She was halfway to the door and turned to the yard and tried to get over the fence and back to the street. She was then back to the house and was surprised to find that the man had lots of chances to shoot her, but she had had told other versions of the tragedy, and the man took her not to make a sound and she ran through to the front door and she was safe.

The Lawyer asked her if she was afraid of her assailant. She said she would know him again. Blackstock pressed her hair back and held many suggestive shots and he had fired at her as she ran from the house. She had been shot in the head, but the stars and the man had had lots of chances to shoot her, but she had had told other versions of the tragedy, and the man took her not to make a sound and she ran through to the front door and she was safe.

ROBBED POST OFFICE BOXES.

Six Boys Have Practised System of Penetrating Letters for Six Months.

Brockville, Ont., March 10.—Boghner, a boy who lives in Butler's hotel, endeavored to determine the cause of the repeated thefts made by Butler of mail boxes in the post office, having learned that Butler had been using letters from the box of the B. & W. Railway company. He said he was the only person to have his name in the box.

He then named Edward H. Butler, who was not guilty. Boghner, the latter stated, claimed he was a Conservative and claimed the Conservative party was putting up a plot against him.

He was then asked to identify the lad who had returned visits, using the keys to open boxes, with suspicious letters and valuable matter have lost to the rightfellow. The boy said he used some of these devices, simply destroying the letters after opening them.

ALASKA-YUKON-PACIFIC EXPOSITION IS READY

Buildings Require Only Finishing Touches—Contract Exhibit On Display—Fair Will Present Myriad of Attractive Features—Exhibit Are敦

Due June 1.

Seattle, Wash., Mar. 10.—On March 1 the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which will open in Seattle on June 1, was within ten per cent. of being a finished product. All of the splendid structures erected by the Exposition corporation were finished and ready for the public to see, and the staff work and last bits of ornamentation being put on the structures built by the individual exhibitors and contractors from Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, the fisheries and the mining districts.

The scores of acres of gardens comprehend in the magnificent breaking-sweeping grounds are already in leaf and, in many cases, brilliant bloom; so that by the opening day the fair will be a picture of beauty such as has been seen at no other world's fair.

Exhibits are arriving to arrive by the boat and train load. The last two steamships from the Alaskan coast brought in the first of the important sections of the government's Alaska display. Not the least interesting item on the ship was the famous Yukon gold, just as it was taken out of the placer mines of the Yukon. Twenty thousand dollars' worth of gold and vast amount of wealth was brought out from the camp by dog teams over the winter trail, the so-called typically Alaskan method, in some cases, as much as 1,500 miles, with other great numbers "mashed" down the main trails.

The chief construction work going forward is the finishing being done on state buildings. Michigan has recently begun on its handsome club house and railroad station.

The Hill City Society of the Northwest is similarly engaged and Utah and Nevada are also well along. Oregon has put $25,000 to its original appropriation of $100,000 and promised greatly to exceed it.

The stock show, which originally was planned as a coast affair, has been so successful every year held in the country. Demands for entry are pouring in from Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, and neighboring states and the original area of 700 to 300 feet, which was to have been converted into 1,000 to 1,000 feet.

Rapid progress is being made on the Canadian building and the exhibits of our neighbor to the north will be very comprehensive and attractive.

There will be 88 dancing men and women in the Turkish Hall of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition which opens on June 1 in Seattle, making it the highest oriental concession ever put up at the Alaska.

Tourists bound for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which opens in June, will have a splendid opportunity to take the world-famous excursion along the coast and across the interior of the Alaska coast.

The Seattle chamber of commerce will escort an interesting delegation to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in progress, for the benefit of visitors to the city. Agents will be sent to Seattle to meet this way persons who visit the metropolis of the State of Washington this summer, and to keep them informed of room rates at the hotel and lodging houses.

Among the interesting events of interest to Seattle at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition this summer will be a show of the Indians of the last of the River Indians.

The National Convention of the Worth League is to be held at Seattle this month, and the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition will draw more than 10,000 visitors from Seattle and the Northwest.

One of the interesting exhibits at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition will be the display of the American Bankers' Association. The exhibit will be in the character of a bank. A meeting of the bankers' associations of Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho will be held in Seattle this summer.

An automobile race across the continent for the distance supremacy, with a costly trophy for the winner, will take place about the second week of June, during the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. There will be thousands of visitors in Seattle to witness the finish of the race.

Japan is spending $60,000 year upon its buildings and in bringing its exhibits to Seattle, making it the largest position, which opens in Seattle on June 1.

The greatest automobile race the world has ever seen will be run from New York city to the grounds of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in Seattle. The race will start on June 1, the day the Exposition opens. A purse of $100,000 and $50,000 in prizes have been offered by Mr. Robert Guggenheim, the automobile enthusiast, who is president of the race.

The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition is the first world's fair which has not a single dollar of money from the government. Uncle Sam is spending $600,000, but is doing it himself on his own account.

One hundred thousand cactus daffia plants are used in one single feature of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which opens in Seattle on June 1.

Eleven exhibits of various types have made their stopover privileges to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition this month. They are the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, Yellowstone Park and other scenic wonders, which are now in Seattle on June 1.

"Old Faithful," the famous Yellowstone Park geyser, will be reproduced in Geysir Basin, one of the central features of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which opens in Seattle on June 1. It is to be a reproduction at night of electric lamps of different colors, a height of 150 feet in the air.

The dust valued at $5,000 has arrived in Seattle, where it will make one of the exhibits of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which opens June 1. It was brought over the winter trail from Dawson City, Nome.

Pugot Sound and Lake Washington offer the finest water in the world for the boat and sail boat races, and crews from all over the country have entered for the contest, which will take place at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which opens on June 1.

More than 200 tuffed English canaries will be seen growing in one vast nest at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which opens on June 1.

Specimens of all of Luther Burbank's wonderful vegetable creations will be shown at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in Seattle this summer, and the musical activities of the world's most famous musical organizations, will be an attraction at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition this summer, which is being held to recline the vast northern deserts.

Three of the highest mountain peaks in the world will be seen within a radius of five miles of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. In addition, there will be the Mount Moran, Mount Baker and Mount Constant.

Everyone who attends the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in Seattle this summer, will have the privilege of gazing dust from native trees, which is being done in the Tannery and the Klondike.

It will cost only $30 for a round trip to the Klondike, which is the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which opens in Seattle on June 1.

Amateur Athlete Union championships will be contested for on the stadium of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which opens in Seattle on June 1.

Man Who Shot Brother-in-Law Not Guilty of Murder

Bellingham, Wash., Mar. 10.—Despite a strenuous charge against the prisoner by Judge Testel, the jury in the Suzuki trial registered an acquittal.

In the evidence for the defense two sisters of the prisoner avowed that their brother did not mean to kill Sero but only to injure him. The accused himself entered into the defense, saying he had come to Sero's house that night to try to get his sister away. He took his gun and tried to take it from him and it was accidentally discharged.

The prisoner's lawyer in his address to the jury said that the accused man had made improper advances to the prisoner's sister and had thus induced her to take the gun to Sero's house to frighten him into behaving better.
